

BROAD SPECTRUM SPF 15

WUUnderground

MAY 31, 2019

VOL 15, ISSUE 10

PRICE: ONE FINNISH SCHOOLBOY

BURIED WUNDERGROUND

Andrew Martin Shows St. Louis Pride by Detaining Protestors

pg. forty

Top Ten First Moves in Tic Tac Toe

pg. six and a half and half

Evangelical Win: Survival of Anti-Vaxxers Kinda Proving Natural Selection is Bullshit

pg. 30h!3

Loud Luxury Cues Up Thirty Fourth Rendition of "Body," Refuses to Leave Brookings Quad

Nicholas Page

Chancellor Wrighton Rides into Sunset on Sled Pulled by Starving Adjuncts

pg. bajillion and three

Thomas Paine Drops out of Spring WILD: "The Decision Was Common Sense"

pg. 2.0

College Jeopardy Contestant Really Hoping All Questions About His Semester Abroad

pg. fourteen

Ad Council Debuts Reverse Psychology Anti-Smoking Campaign

In an innovative marketing move, the Ad Council debuted a series of PSA's last week using reverse psychology to fight teen smoking. The campaign, titled "Smoke You Pussy," hopes to incite anti-authority reactions in the nation's rebellious teens. Ads featured will contain images of teens portrayed as popular, attractive, and successful experimenting with tobacco products, framed by titles such as "You Won't Not Smoke," "Non Smokers Are Bitches" and "I Heard

You Don't Use Cigarettes You Ball-less Eunuch."

The key, says specialist Paula Dern, is knowing that targeted youths detest messages from adult figures. "When kids see these 'cool' ads made by community leaders, they're gonna say 'hey, smoking must be the opposite of that.'" To increase the effectiveness of the campaign, campaign organizers will be handing out cartons of cigarettes to teens at no cost. "Just as you'd expect a teenager to turn down a street-side pamphlet or coupon booklet, we think bombarding these kids with cigarettes will turn them off the scent completely," affirmed one volunteer.

Initial studies from the campaign reveal unprecedented increases in teen cigarette usage nationwide; Ms. Dern, however, says this is to be expected. "Pretty soon they'll realize that all those suave, sexy promos were made by adults, and they'll turn heel. Very, very soon."

In response to the ad council's campaign, Clayton High School Junior, Robert Edison stated, "nice try dad, I'd rather steal your vodka."

Sesame Street Foreclosures Escalate Neighborhood Tensions

Armed tickle fights targeting state auditors have increased police presence on Sesame Street.

NEW YORK, NY-

Hostilities reached a tipping point on Sesame Street last Thursday when yet another forced eviction drew police presence to the neighborhood. Tenant and local barber Theodore PoodleDoodle refused to vacate his property upon arrival of foreclosure agents, enlisting help from neighbors to incite a riot.

Witnesses describe a standoff between PoodleDoodle and members of city law enforcement, before police officers acquired a battering ram to access the property by force. Upon entering the residence, PoodleDoodle and his associates sought to "tickle" the officials, whereupon they was immediately detained and removed from the premises.

The NYC district, made famous by a popular reality show program, is home to a majority Muppet demographic. Residents believe developers are targeting Muppet housing as largely white, affluent buyers continue to voice interest in the "quaint" locale. "A two story brownstone next to a bookstore called 'Bomblesnarf's'? It's Burlington charm in the heart of New York," wrote one prospective tenant.

Frequent hikes in rent prices, paired with increasingly desperate living conditions, have turned the once-thriving community into tenement housing. Census officials estimate three hundred Muppets, ranging in size from a man-sized bird to several mice in a trenchcoat, to be sharing a single one bedroom apartment. "We're looking at a potential repeat of Triangle Shirtwaist Factory here. If this place goes up, not everyone's getting out" remarked one official.

LEAKED: Student Union Fall Game Day Calendar 2019

Building off the success of their Football and Baseball Game Day tailgates, members of Student Union have decided to expand the Game Day program to other, more niche, campus events. Who knew all you needed was alcohol, free food, and the tacit endorsement of Greek Life to host a successful WashU tailgate! WUnderground has the exclusive leaked Game Day schedule.

SEPTEMBER
Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat
					1 GAME DAY: MEN'S CHESS	2
		5 GAME DAY: URSA'S COMPETITIVE CRAFTING	6	7	8	9 GAME DAY: VARSITY SCUBA-DIVING
10 GAME DAY: WRIGHTON V. MARTIN CAGE-BOXING	11	12	13	14 GAME DAY: MIKE TALAYNA'S JUKEBOX	15	16
17	18	19	20 GAME DAY: WOMEN'S LARPING	21	22	23
24	25 GAME DAY: "ARCHERY BUT WITH PLANES"	26	27	28	29 GAME DAY: CRYING IN A ROOM BY MYSELF	30

WUNDERGROUND

WUnderground is WashU's premier (only) satirical newspaper and should be taken about as seriously as the round-earthers.

The news reported by this paper is fictitious. Any resemblance to persons living, ailing or dead is entirely intentional.

OVERLORDS

Carter Paterson ^{1 2}
WUnderdad <3

Maddie Lee¹
Editor-in-Chief

Rohit Kumar
Editor-in-Keef

Dana Citrin^{*1 2}
Layout Sorceress

SPECIAL OPS

Mikki Janower
International Superspy

Max Lichtenstein
An Absolute Dreamboat

Henry Weinburgh
Foreign Correspondent Alpha

Ike Butler
Foreign Correspondent Beta

STAFF

Dan Rivera ¹
Jess King
Zoe Cooke
Adam Kaufman ¹
Rahul Oza
Max Woods
Arjun Puri
Jack Killeen
Zoe Cooke
Alex Levy
Jack Winkelman

UNPAID INTERNS

Carlie Darefsky
Kirsten Holland
Nicholas LaMorte
Samson Seley
Lila Puziss
Hannah Anderson
Jon Niewjik
Collin Wettach
Katie Liguori
Isabelle Roig
Ako Sarfo

¹Layout Wizard
²Graduated Senior :(
³Seeking Employment

If you would like to write, edit, fund our money-laundering scheme, etc. email us at wunderground@wustl.edu

ISSN # 1938-0089

wunderground.wustl.edu

Op-Ed: I'd fuck the Celestial Seasonings Sleepytime Tea® bear

CLAYTON, MO-

I think we can agree that after a long day, nothing beats the calming, relaxing taste of Celestial Seasonings Sleepytime Tea®. However, over the years, I couldn't help but notice that someone has gone underappreciated, undervalued: the Celestial Seasonings Sleepytime Tea® bear. Given the chance, I would make him feel seen and heard. And I would fuck the shit out of him.

When I'm stressed out and feeling on edge, I reach for Celestial Seasonings Sleepytime Tea® to help me get to bed. But when I'm finally in bed, all I can think about is getting fucked down by the pajama-wearing bear on the box. There's just something about the beautiful blend of delicate chamomile, cool spearmint, and fresh lemongrass that makes me horny as hell.

Picture this: You've just gotten home from a terrible day at the office. Jeremy from HR's emotional support parakeet Sheryl Crow pooped on your shoulder right as you were about to leave, and you had to sit through the entire train ride home with bird shit on your shoulder. When you finally reach your apartment, he's there, waiting for you. "Hey, babe." He lights a fire, puts some smooth jazz on, and tosses your coat into the washing machine without mentioning the bird shit. You used to think men were trash, but you realize that the Celestial Seasonings Sleepytime Tea® bear would never treat you the way that Brad from Sigma Apple Pie did. That light blue nightgown and red sleep cap lights a fire in your soul. You want him. You need him.

I know what you're thinking, why the Celestial Seasonings Sleepytime Tea® bear? Why not the Charmin Ultra Soft bear? And to that I'd say, do I look like a fucking homewrecker to you? He has a wife and kids, asshole. And he sings songs about wiping his ass, no thank you. Why not a Keebler® elf? I'm totally in support of the short kings of the world, but he seems a little too full of himself. I've heard the dick is Uncommonly Good®, but

"Oh f*ck yeah honey daddy."

I'm not into that experimental shit. Too kinky.

The calming essence of Celestial Seasonings Sleepytime Tea® rocks me gently to sleep, and that's exactly why I want the bear to gently rock my back walls. I'd fuck him repeatedly, and there's nothing you can do about it.

A Brief History of WUnderground

The earliest known remains of WUunderground members were discovered in the 1920s by a team of French archeologists in north western Anatolia, buried in a paleolithic gravesite alongside a community of early modern humans. This gravesite is usually connected to the impressive nearby cave paintings portraying travelling bison. A handful of those paintings, which date back perhaps 40,000 years, have captivated and perplexed anthropologists for decades because of their intricately detailed phalluses. The attention paid to the phalluses of these bison far outranks the attention paid to the rest of their bodies, and particular emphasis is placed on the dorsal artery. Some of the images have a blurred area around the genitals, indicating that certain members of the community attempted to erase the bulging veins and redraw normal penises, probably several times. Veiny phalluses stop appearing around 36,000 BC, roughly when fossil records indicate that WUunderground members were expelled from the area.

After a period of prolonged migration and displacement, WUunderground settled in lower Scandinavia in the Early Middle Ages. These goofballs reappear in the historical record in the accounts of Irish monks who, while writing about Vikings, refer to a people they called the Wendergrönd, who were distinguished from the other Vikings by their distinct incessant sailing chant "Full mug, flip mug," as well as their "half-assed" attitude and paltry attendance in raids.

Although archeological evidence of viking presence in mainland North America has been traditionally connected to accounts of the explorer Leif Erikson, in recent scholarship this role has been taken up by the newly discovered Wenderskrolla. Composed sometime in the 11th century, and coming down to us through an early English translation, the Wenderskrolla describes the voyage of the fisherman named Borg, leader of the Wendergrönd:

Borg, whilst fordrunken of mead, declared "I wondreth what would happen if I just kept sailing west." His crew, also fordrunken of mead, mirthfully snickered, and for thirty days and thirty nights they sailed westward for no discernable reason. Upon the thirtieth night, his crew became uncomfortable and beseeched him to return, whereupon Borg refused out of commitment to the bit.

Due to their advanced illiteracy, the WUunderground team outsourced the documentation of their history to a committed team of feeble nerds.

After a two year voyage, they arrived in Vinland, where most of them starved to death and the rest returned to Scandinavia with massive hangovers.

The invention of the printing press revolutionized their WUundersociety, as they found themselves suddenly thrust upon the world stage. Alongside Martin Luther's 95 Theses, WUunderground's "Top Ten Priests I Want to Fuck" was instrumental in bringing about the Protestant Reformation. WUunderground had its heyday in that sweet 200 year window circa 1650-1850 when satire was socially relevant, but they entered a sharp decline after going full force on the wrong side of the evolution debate.

During the Great Depression, WUunderground left Europe for the United States, where they settled in St Louis and enrolled in the local university to dodge the draft during WWII. The city's university, which used to be called New Jersey University in St Louis, was renamed Washington University in St Louis in their honor.

SHARK TANK

THE WUNDERGROUND STAFF WANTS TO PITCH SOME OF ITS IDEAS TO SHARK TANK. HERE ARE OUR "BEST" CONCEPTS:

MATERNITY TEST

GARLIC FLAVORED GUM

BRILLE PODCAST

CAN-OPENER FLIP-FLOP

ALMOND BREAST PUMP

A KID YOU PAY TO FIGHT KIDS YOU HATE BUT ARE TOO YOUNG FOR YOU TO FIGHT

A Farewell Letter

Dear Reader,

As all of WashU knows, at the end of this semester, we must all say goodbye to one of the most important figures on campus. Although he is often embroiled in controversy, the student body cannot help but feel a collective endearment towards him. As he prepares to retire from his venerated position at our institution and move on to a new chapter in his life, we here at WUnderground would like to take this time to reflect on some of our favorite things about him.

1) He doesn't care about public opinion. Even when most of the student body opposes his plans, he forges ahead. When protests rage around him, he refuses to quit. We may not always agree with him, but we have to admire his mettle.

2) He always makes us laugh. Who has birthed more memes than this man? How many fantastically dastardly schemes have emerged from his fertile womb? Who has provided more fodder for comedy? Most importantly, what on earth will WUnderground write about when he leaves?

3) He keeps us on our toes. Life sure would be boring without him! Who knows what controversial decision he's going to make next? Our staff is trained to be ready at all hours of the day to generate new content in response to his latest whims.

4) He does stupid shit. If there's one thing for which we can always count on our dear leader, it's a mountain of stupid shit. I mean, requesting a boat from SU? Who else could come up with this nonsense?

We will miss you dearly, Carter Lord Paterson. Thank you for being our fearless leader through the stormy seas of college life as we navigated momentous occasions like the Great StudLife Op-Ed War of 2019, the advent of Cards Against the Humanities, and the Peacock Diner Lock-In with a complete lack of social grace. Though you may be despised by most of the administration, StudLife, the leaders of many student groups, Ted Cruz (we assume), and a large group of Alpha Phis, WUnderground will always have a special place for you in the hole where our heart should be. We would not be where we are today without your steady hand, insane ideas, or grammatical stylings. Thank you for everything you've done for WUnderground and for us <3

Sincerishly,

Your Loyal Servants, The WUnderground Staff

TOP 10...

Best guesses at Mark Wrighton's Username

With the recent passing of good ol' Mark's resignation, we are working ceaselessly to slide into our former chancellor's DMs (we didn't even get to wish him HAGS yet). Here are our well-researched predictions for our supreme leader's aim handle -rofl lmao q:-D -- :

10. xXxCoalWorldxXx
9. markymarkandthefunkybunch
8. Clit_Eatwood@wustl.edu
7. glowstickdaddy
6. ih8poors@aol.com
5. Ojdidnothingwrong
4. Bigsuitlittlebody
3. Marksandrec
2. Soccerchic63130
1. Mark

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

These WUnderSeniors Graduated! What Do You Think?

CARTER PATERSON
Professional Barista

"I stepped on the Eliot Seal two days before commencement and now I am blind."

MADDIE LEE
The Smartest of Us

"Sh*t i'm too drunk to think of one of these."

DAN RIVERA
Brother of Gamma Phi Beta

"I'm gonna miss getting paddled at the Gamma House."

DANA CITRIN
Mafia Boss at Eataly

"If college is the best years of your life, please someone poison me now."

ADAM KAUFMAN
On Birthright for the 5th(?) Time

"The FitnessGram Pacer Test is a multistage aerobic capacity test that progressively gets more difficult as it continues. The 20 meter pacer test will begin in 30 seconds. Line up at the start. The running speed starts slowly but gets faster each minute after you hear this signal bodeboop. A sing lap should be completed every time you hear this sound. ding Remember to run in a straight line and run as long as possible. The second time you fail to complete a lap before the sound, your test is over. The test will begin on the word start. On your mark. Get ready!... Start. ding"

GEORGE WASHINGTON
Fifth Semester Senior

"My girlfriend's a junior so I'll be hanging here a bit longer."