

WUUnderground

OCTOBER 18TH, 2020

VOL 17, ISSUE 1

PRICE: 1 NEGATIVE COVID TEST

BURIED WUNDERGROUND

Boomer Couple Relieved That COVID Has Made it Socially Acceptable Again to Cross the Street When They See a Black Man

p. everywhere

Op-ed: Does ACAB Include Mall Cops? In Defense of Paul Blart

p. 12

To Speed Up COVID Testing, Rob Wild Encourages Students to Spit in Each Other's Mouths for Practice

p. somewhere

Imperialist B-Schooler Conquers Empty Meeting Room

p. over the rainbow

Sexism in Action: 63% of WashU Men Can't Locate Women's Building on Map

p. way up high

Zoom Breakout Room Participants Enter Tense Standoff to See Who Will Speak First

p. 33

Hope Hicks: 2nd Wave of Covid, 4th Wave Feminist

WASHINGTON, DC. -

Hope Hicks, the White House's communications director, may seem like an unlikely choice for the post-modern feminist hero. Ms. Hicks has always been cast aside as a background player in the mayhem of this presidential administration. But this week, she has clearly proven to all young girls in America that a woman CAN make a difference in the Republican party. In the triumph of all triumphs, Ms. Hicks has infected her boss, President Donald Trump, with the deadly coronavirus. In a presidential administration plagued with allegations of sexism and sexual harassment, Hope Hicks has climbed the ranks to finally achieve a much desired feminist goal; taking down the president.

Some may say that Ms. Hicks infecting the president was accidental, and could even put her job in jeopardy. But many believe she has greater motivations in mind. When the world most needed President Trump gone, Ms. Hicks boldly volunteered to take on the task. With her deep training in feminist history and methodology (which she undertook during her job as the Fox News Chief Communications

Ms. Hicks, the new radical Antifa leader, in all her glory.

Officer), Ms. Hicks knows how to use tools of social justice to feel empowered, and to create the change that she wishes to see in the world. What Greta Thunberg is for climate action, Hope Hicks is for the newest feminist moment.

While many liberal women have cheered at her decision to infect the President with the deadly coronavirus, Homeland Security is now looking into her newfound advocacy. They have pinpointed the singular WGSS class Hicks took in college to fulfill her English requirement as the source of her leftist radicalization. All classes at Southern Methodist University, her alma mater, have been suspended and federal troops have begun the process of burning all works of Jane Austen in the hopes of stopping future home-grown bra-burning terrorists from taking over the streets and the capitol.

From his hospital bed, President Trump delivered a message to the American people calling for Law and Order, and specifically called out Ms. Hicks as a possible new leader of Antifa. Yet his efforts to quell the uprising might be too little, too late, as Hicks has already taken out other key players of the Trump administration. Worst of all, Chris Christie has also fallen prey to Hicks' feminist plot of spreading the coronavirus among dangerous men. The likely cause of his infection is from pressing his lips against Trump's pursed anus whilst still contagious.

When asked for comment, Mr. Christie simply responded, "I'm just happy to finally be included."

Opinion: I Have the Right to Not Wear Pants

There seems to be a crisis nowadays—a pandemic, if you will—in which the individual's responsibility to society is called into question. Whether or not you take certain actions has suddenly become indicative of a person's character, despite the fact that these actions are in truth quite ridiculous. I am here to challenge one such action: I have the right to not wear pants.

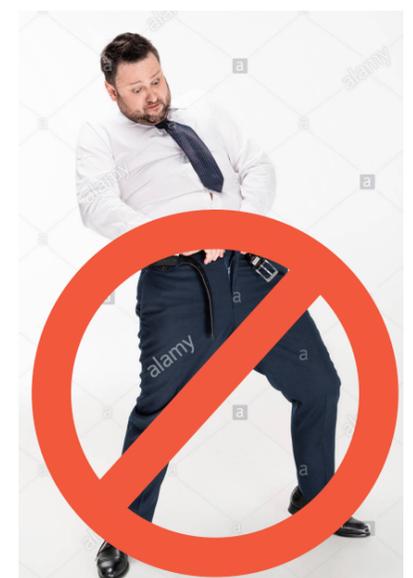

I have the right to not wear pants because walking around with my penis out does not cause anyone harm. If you do not want to see my penis, you can either stand 6 feet away or walk somewhere else. I do not see anything come out of my penis, and I do not touch anyone directly with my penis, so there is no possible way that having my penis out can cause anyone harm. I have the right to walk around with my penis out. I have the right to not wear pants.

I have the right to not wear pants because pants restrict my ability to breathe. Whenever I wear pants, my crotch gets hot and sweaty, and I do not like it. Sometimes I try to breathe easier by pulling my pants down under my penis, but everyone says that pants have to go over both the testicles and the penis in order to work. In my defense, that is uncomfortable, so I will not do it. Doctors might be able to operate for 10 hours straight while wearing pants, but they are professionals. I have the right to be comfortable. I have the right to not wear pants.

I have the right to not wear pants because it covers the part of my body that makes me unique. Science says that eyebrows are the most important factor in recognizing other people. I know that people can still see my eyebrows when I wear pants, but my penis is an integral part of my identity. If people cannot see it, they will be unable to recognize me. If my penis is covered, how will everyone know that I am Jewish? I have the right to not wear pants.

And if you are not already convinced, I have the right to not wear pants because this is America. The First Amendment guarantees me the right to free speech, which affords me the right to do anything. The Constitution has neither a mandate to wear pants nor a clause about complying with government directives. I am a free citizen. I have the right to not wear pants.

How to Pick Up Girls on Zoom

Hey, freshman! Yeah bro, you right there. Way you're walking, looks like the only thing you've been crushing this semester is tap water. I get it I get it, things are dry these days: no Big Daddy's, no TKE basement, no Chem PLTL. Most of the girls in your life are trapped in Zoom tiles. But that doesn't mean you can't still pull like a goddamn tow truck. You just need some veteran game. And women don't all want the same thing, unless that thing is a Harley Davidson, but we're in a pandemic so you need to take the varied approach. Oh boy, here we go:

1. Location Location Location

Your dorm room says a lot about you. So make sure you don't look like a pussy. No Tame Impala album posters, no polaroid walls, and NO Chicago flags. You need something that tells everyone you're an absolute stud. Behind me rest a Julius Caesar bust, a bloodied gladius, and a ham. It's time to level up.

2. Strong and silent

If your video quality is good enough, emphasize the STRONG. I'm talking shirt off, pecs oiled, neck thick. I mean THICK. If your neck isn't wider than your head, it's time to hit the gym. If your video is too grainy for this display, it's time to go STEALTH. Turn your video off and leave your audio on. Don't answer any questions, even if directly addressed; but make sure to keep your peers aware of your presence with tastefully spaced low grunts. Does wonders for your image.

3. Sensitive

Strong and silent won't work on everyone, so you've gotta play the field. Pretend to care. Pretend to be speaking in American Sign Language to someone on the other side of your screen. Once every class, drop "Racism, Pretty Bad, Right?" in the Zoom chat. Use the Thumbs Up reaction whenever a girl shares something traumatic. Dude trust me.

4. Share your true feelings

This is a delicate art, because it can't seem intentional. So invite over one of your boys who's on the same chase, and "accidentally" unmute yourself. Then it's time. It's a bit tricky, because Zoom doesn't reveal much on girls that you can verbally objectify. Stick to the basics: "Yo, her name sounds Italian, I bet she's hot as fuck"; "Dude she has a salt crystal the head must be immaculate"; "Damn I dropped my pencil but I can't pick it up without sucking my own dick, I'm not gay though so I guess I just won't take any notes for the rest of class." These statements let chicks know you're interested, and that on its own is a giant turn-on.

If you're still having a hard time even with these tricks, well, that's on you. That's all I'll say.

WUNDERGROUND

WUnderground is WashU's premier (only) satirical newspaper and should be taken about as seriously as the round-earthers.

The news reported by this paper is fictitious. Any resemblance to persons living, ailing or dead is entirely intentional.

OVERLORDS

Jon Niewjik
Overlord

Hannah Anderson
Sub-lord

Lila Puziss
Sub-lord

Nicholas LaMorte
Sub-lord

UNDERLORDS

- Abbey Rose
- Carina Greenberg
- Isabelle Roig
- Jess King
- Jonah Brody
- Jonathan Cher
- Josh Keller
- Julia Birnbach
- Kamy Chong
- Lydia Nickels
- Max Woods
- Samson Seley
- Will LeVan
- Wyatt Pelton

LAYOUT TROLLS

Kirsten Holland
something funny and kind of layout related

Sara Frankenthaler
another funny thing

If you would like to write, edit, fund our money-laundering scheme, etc. email us at wunderground@wustl.edu

1 234567 890128 >

ISSN # 1938-0089

wunderground.wustl.edu

WHY IS NOBODY TALKING ABOUT THIS?!?!?!?

OPINIONS

Why are we not hearing anything about the California wildfires? I can't believe no one is talking about this. I'm honestly appalled that WashU students haven't made a concerted effort to get Big Fire's attention. I wish you guys would give California the same energy that you've been giving to save your precious fraternities and sororities.

To take a stand against Big Fire, we will be meeting Monday, October 12 by the DUC firepit at dusk. We will take advantage of the fact that 20% of WashU men are Eagle Scouts by asking them to build us a fire, where we will then voice our grievances. Big Fire will hear us. (If it's raining that day, that means they're afraid of us. They can't hide forever.)

If you can't make it to our protest against the fires, I've created a petition that's linked below. It literally takes 5 seconds to sign and spread the word. The mainstream media won't tell you this, but productive change really only takes a petition and some Instagram stories. If no one shows up, I'll just keep losing my faith in good old-fashioned American democracy.

#STOPFIRE2020

All that being said, if you just scroll past this and go about your life, you're part of the problem. Educate yourself, and please help me spread awareness about bringing down Big Fire. See you Monday, ready to FIGHT!

Point: ROTC encourages a toxic hierarchy and blind faith to nationalism

Counterpoint: What the fuck did you just fucking say about me, you little bitch? I'll have you know I graduated top of my class in the Navy Seals, and I've been involved in numerous secret raids on Al-Qaeda, and I have over 300 confirmed kills. I am trained in gorilla warfare and I'm the top sniper in the entire US armed forces. You are nothing to me but just another target. I will wipe you the fuck out with precision the likes of which has never been seen before on this Earth, mark my fucking words. You think you can get away with saying that shit to me over the Internet? Think again, fucker. As we speak I am contacting my secret network of spies across the USA and your IP is being traced right now so you better prepare for the storm, maggot. The storm that wipes out the pathetic little thing you call your life. You're fucking dead, kid. I can be anywhere, anytime, and I can kill you in over seven hundred ways, and that's just with my bare hands. Not only am I extensively trained in unarmed combat, but I have access to the entire arsenal of the United States Marine Corps and I will use it to its full extent to wipe your miserable ass off the face of the continent, you little shit. If only you could have known what unholy retribution your little "clever" comment was about to bring down upon you, maybe you would have held your fucking tongue. But you couldn't, you didn't, and now you're paying the price, you goddamn idiot. I will shit fury all over you and you will drown in it. You're fucking dead, kiddo.

StopFire2020

WUnderground started this petition to The General Public

We must stop the wildfires in California. Why has nobody stopped them yet? This petition will stop the fires ONCE AND FOR ALL!!!!

Dating Apps, Corona-times: Two Conversations with Two "Kings"

"C'mon!" groans Earl Garthwell, a five foot six sophomore chemistry major at WashU. "What am I supposed to do?" he asks, slamming his phone on a DUC table, "take them all sitting down?!" With its social distancing requirements, the coronavirus pandemic has derailed the sexual and romantic lives of WashU's student body, forcing many to seek intimacy through dating apps like Tinder or Bumble.

Some of WashU's "kings," like Earl, reminisce of the days where they could just inexplicably appear behind someone at Big Daddy's and thrust their groin into them without permission and without being held accountable—since we live in a casual patriarchy—for a clear violation of one's right not to be molested.

"It's just tough," Earl tells me as we pass the chapel, "I want a girlfriend. I want to be in love, and I'm also really horny and sick of beating off," I nod with partial sympathy, "it's been too long since I've even touched a girl, dude, and the illusion just isn't there anymore."

Earl projects well, which is good for journalism, bad for two folks in public talking about sexual dissatisfaction and pornography. Students turned their masked faces towards us in alarm.

"I know I'm not fucking when my phone is in my hand and my dick is in the other. I know what's on the screen isn't mine. (It isn't that size). I don't deserve this." This last sentence is philosophically up for grabs, but I'm a poor ethicist and won't pursue it here.

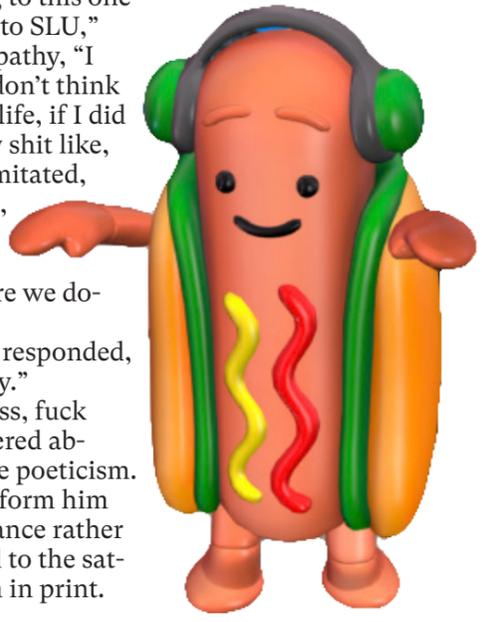

Earl, while surely aggressive, isn't alone in his troubles. I caught up with junior writing major and art history minor Joel Entity, who I observed had taken up longboarding over the break as he ripped down the Forsyth sidewalk. "Yeah, I mean Tinder's definitely not the same," he said to me, "I was talking to this one chick the other day, goes to SLU," I nodded with partial empathy, "I mean she was cute but I don't think I could talk to her in real life, if I did I would end having to say shit like, 'yo, that's so woke,'" he imitated, "'yo, that's so problematic, yo, I love Travis...'" he sighed for our generation, "like c'mon, what are we doing?!"

"Only what we can," I responded, "we are helpless and guilty."

"Fuck into forgetfulness, fuck into tomorrow," he muttered absent-mindedly, with virile poeticism.

I was then going to inform him of how I found this utterance rather problematic, but deferred to the satisfaction of exposing him in print.

Advice From Mary Rose

Good day readers! Our first question today comes from Connie Lingus, hailing from Long Island, NY. She asks:

“Dear Mary Rose,

I have developed feelings for the shape-shifting demon that lives under my bed. What should I do?

Sincerely,

Connie”

Hi Connie. Thank you for your question and being so open! Shape-shifting demons are certainly a pain to deal with, but like my great aunt Ingrid would say, “everything can be fixed with love.” My advice to you is simple: go to your local butcher and order a live goat. Once in your room, simply draw a pentagram with epsom salt and slit the throat of the goat over the pentagram! Don’t forget to let the blood dribble down! Here’s the tricky part; you need to recite the following spell: “հանուն Նիկի Մինստի ես անիծում եմ քեզ.”

Once you’ve repeated this phrase, you’ll have some much needed clarity! The demon will come out from under your bed and into your heart. Good luck!

- Mary Rose

***

Our second question comes from Dallas resident Ivana Tinkle. She asks:

“Dear Mary Rose,

My grandkids have been running around the house yelling the phrase “WAP.” I have never heard this phrase before. What does it mean? Are they doing drugs?

Many thanks,

Ivana T.

Hi Ivana. Thank you for your question! With the rise of the internet came the creation of new and unfamiliar acronyms. Us older folk need to stay in the loop so we can compete with these millennials! From my research WAP seems to stand for Wireless Access Point. I am not sure why your grandkids are yelling about the internet, but it is hard to understand kids these days! A wireless access point is a device that creates a wireless local area network for your house. It looks like you have some little engineers running around the house! As for your drug concerns: do not fret! A little drug here and there never hurt anyone! Thank you for “connecting” with me!

- Mary Rose

TOP 10...

Halloween Costumes to wear to Zoom Class

10. Slutty Amy Coney Barrett
9. Conversely, Schoolgirl Cardi B
8. A smile :-)
7. A stormtrooper with his helmet off
6. The fly from the VP debate
5. A Snow White costume but only from the shoulders up
4. Sexy ICU bed
3. Among Us crewmate
2. The ghost of Herman Cain
1. Wet Ass Problemset

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Can Greek Life Actually be Reformed? What do you think?

FORMER PRESIDENT OF SAE

Insecure

“As David Foster Wallace said, fraternities aren’t the issue. College is. SAE gave me friends. And friends are good. I think the amount of good done by the friendships fostered by SAE outweighs the negatives.”

DAVID FOSTER WALLACE

Closeted Communist

“Ummm, I literally never said that?”

THE DEVIL’S ADVOCATE

Argumentative

“This shit slaps.”

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Founder of Delta Chi inc.

“My slave overseers had very effective diversity and inclusion training!”